EXTENSION'S RESPONSE

Hunger

- One participant of the food preservation workshops brings herbs to the office and utilizes a dehydrator to make an herb sprinkle, and now uses less salt in her food preparation.
- Three participants in the food preservation workshop work for a department in Cherokee Nation that has applied for funding through the CDC—if they are successful in procuring funds we will partner in programs and resources.

- Increased access of need and elderly families and individuals in Cherokee County to fresh vegetables through the Hands of Grace Warehouse Food Pantry and vegetable drop-off to Go Ye Village. Safe food handling practices were provided along with vegetables.
- Junior Master Gardener participants learned to transplant tomato plants which were then sold to community members

Finance

Eight adults completed evaluations which asked how they plan to change their behavior as a result of attending Finance Issue Team programming

- 80% decrease in those who plan to regularly stress about money matters
- 50% plan to regularly write down financial goals
- 66% increase in those who plan to regularly track income and spending
- 83% plan to regularly make a written spending plan
- 83% plan to regularly order a copy of their credit report on a regular basis

One participant in Making Sense of Money Management said they have learned to manage their money better and would like to learn more about credit and how to fix their credit.
